From the Principal's Desk

Dear Readers, I am pleased to share with you another issue of 'Disha', the newsletter of the Department of Education, Patna Women's College.

Here, you will find a compendium of the different and interesting activities in which the B.Ed. students participated under the supervision of their teachers. It gives me immense pleasure to see the staff and students of the Department of Education always engaged in the pursuit of academic excellence, community involvement and empowerment and thus, in the realization of the College vision.

The plethora of activities that are conducted in the Department promote the overall development of the B. Ed. students and also enhance their productivity as future teachers. Today, we need teachers who are cognitively bright and affectively mature. This is possible only when tremendous opportunities are made available to them during their training process for their effective participation. I congratulate all the teachers of the Department for their diligent work in guiding and training the B.Ed. students.

May God bless you all!

Guest Lecture on Emotional Intelligence Paramount for Teachers

resource person was Dr. Father P. Anthony Raj S.J. The discussion was based on child growth, brain formation and other factors related to child psychology. Father Anthony showed a video based on the differences in the personalities of boys and girls. He discussed about the different types of personalities and the importance of emotional intelligence in personality development. He stated that if a teacher is emotionally intelligent, his students like and respect him. The workshop turned out to be very fruitful for the teacher trainees and made them realize the significance of both the cognitive and affective domains in personality development.

Gone are those days when being intelligent was enough for a successful future. In the present scenario, a person has to be emotionally intelligent. A two-day workshop on personality development from the perspective of emotional intelligence was organized on 11th and 12th January, 2016. The

Guest Lecture on Formative Assessment of Student in the Context of Continuous and Comprehensive Evaluation

Mr. Minhaz Ali Haider, in his guest lecture delivered on 18th January, 2016, acquainted the teacher trainees with the 'Formative Assessment of Students in the Context of Continuous and Comprehensive Evaluation'. He talked about the radical changes brought about in the educational process with the introduction of CCE. He also stated that teachers should be familiar with the ways and means of imparting knowledge effectively, to students with diverse needs, and emphasized that education is the key to success in life and teachers should always try to make a lasting impact on the lives of their students.

Annual Sports Meet

“If you believe it, the mind can achieve it”. With this motto in mind, B.Ed. trainees participated in the Annual Sports Meet on 30th January, 2016. The Chief Guest for the occasion was Prof. Kumudini Sinha, Head, Post Graduate Department of Economics, Patna University. Mrs Sinha hoisted the College flag and declared the meet open amidst thunderous applause. At the beginning, the students of the four houses-Red, Blue, Green and Yellow marched past with pride. The ceremonious March Past was led by the prefect and house captains. In the March Past, Yellow House bagged the first prize followed by Green House.

The colourful ribbon drill and the dumb bell drill were a feast to the eyes. The main sports events for the day included shuttle race, lemon race, sack race and relay race. The athletes with grit and determination raced to achieve victory and glory for their respective houses. The individual championship (winner) was bagged by Magdali Beck. The house championship was awarded to Blue house.

Parent-Teacher Meet

Good two-way communication between parents and teachers is essential for proper development of students. The teachers and parents together, can make them more confident to face the new challenges in their lives. With this perspective, the Department of Education, PWC, organized a Parent-Teacher Meet on 30th January, 2016, immediately after the Annual Sports Meet. The parents got a vivid glimpse of their daughters' performance till then. Different aspects of their growth were discussed at length for their proper development.

Guest Lecture on Class Control and Management

On 22nd February 2016, Mr. Charles Antonyamy delivered a lecture on the topic Class Control and Management for the B.Ed. students. Mr. Antonyamy is a PGT, Department of English, Delhi Public School, Patna. He discussed at length how teaching should be full of ideas instead of just stuffed with facts. One's teaching should be spontaneous and arouse the feeling of inquisitiveness in the students to know more.

At last, he made the teacher trainees realize that a teacher's duty is not to create his mirror image in the students but to develop students who can create their own images.

“The Earth doesn’t belong to us, we belong to the Earth”, was said by Jesuit Father Robert Athickal, while orienting the teacher-trainees about the Tarumitra Ashram Digha, Patna. The three day Environmental Awareness Programme titled Eco-Psychology was held from 3rd-5th March, 2016. Father said that, as a teacher, one must develop a positive attitude towards nature among his/her students. He showed the students natural treasures of the place, such as, varieties of plants and trees, medicinal herbs and fruits, and eco-friendly things like solar heater and cooker, organic farms, fresh water bell and the ‘Kutirs’ named after various seasons. Through slide presentation, he discussed the evolution of man and animals on the Earth, harmful effects of environmental degradation and the method of conservation. He stressed on afforestation, water conservation and usage of LED lights for healthy living. Father informed the trainees about the fatal effects of pesticides and motivated them for organic farming.

The Beauty of Nature is a Joy Forever : A Visit to Tarumitra

According to him, the time has come when one should become sensitive towards Nature, as Nature gives and preserves life on Earth. The trainees were offered herbal tea and snacks during the session. They explored the place in groups, and got a feel of living in a natural environment. The resolution of protecting the environment and of the celebration of Basant Utsav with trees marked the beautiful and colourful end of the programme.

Tableau on International Women's Day

Women are the backbone of any society. Life without them is unthinkable. Today, a woman plays several roles and influences all dimensions of life. To actually witness the condition of women in today's society and how they utilize their rights, the Department organized a set of tableaux on 8th March, 2016, on the occasion of International Women's Day. The acts portrayed various forms of women's life, from the past to the present. At the end of the programme, the Principal, Dr. Sister Marie Jessie A.C., appreciated the participants for their wonderful performance. Set outside the College gate, the act inspired the visitors to think and introspect the present reality.

Joining Hands with Special Children: Visit to Special Schools

Students are the future of any nation, especially of a developing nation like India. So students, irrespective of their exceptionality, should be provided with proper facilities and opportunities to develop their latent potentialities. To observe the special children in their natural setting and to understand their training process, the teacher trainees visited two special schools of Patna- Ashadeep, Digha, and J.M. Institute, Patliputra Colony on 15th March, 2016. The trainees received a warm welcome by the Principal, faculty members and the students of the schools. They sought information about the different types of special children studying there, the educational provisions and facilities provided to them. They also performed some action songs for the children and learnt to communicate with them through sign language. It was a fruitful visit as it provided the trainees with first hand experience of observing the special children. The day concluded with many of memories.

The Incredible Holi

Holi, the joyous Indian festival of colours, was celebrated with full gaiety and enthusiasm at Patna Women's College on 19th March, 2016. The celebration included a dance competition on Holi songs. Four groups of B.Ed. students participated.

The students gave stellar performances and were spotted in colourful costumes. The groups used props to add grandeur to their performances. The coordination of the participants with the rhythm of melody left everyone present spellbound. The winners were announced at the end. After the competition, teachers, staff and students played Holi with the colourful 'gulaal'. The programme concluded with the message of love, peace and unity by the Principal of the college, Dr Sister Marie Jessie A.

Guest Lecture by Fr. Jose on Marxism

On 18th, January, 2016, the Department of Education, Patna Women's College organized a guest lecture on 'Marxism' for the teacher trainees. Father Jose, Rector, St. Xavier School, Patna, through his evocative lecture threw light on the significant aspects of Marxism, as an important philosophical system of education. The intricate concepts of reality, knowledge and values were dealt with in such a lucid manner, that it was literally a feast for the ears. The lecture was highly educative as well as thought-provoking, leaving every student fascinated.

Certificate Course in Communication and Soft Skills

The Department of Education, Patna Women's College, organised a six-day certificate course in 'Communication and Soft Skills' for the B.Ed. students, in order to groom them in soft skills. It was primarily to focus on polishing the life skills of the prospective teachers. Other resource persons were Ms. Ashrita Kandulna, Department of Communicative English with Media Studies, PWC, Ms. Sapna, Department of English, PWC and Ms. Bhagwanti Gupta, Department of Education, PWC. The certificate course centred on effective communication skills, importance of soft skills for teachers, various word games, writing CVs, interview skills and seven habits which turn an individual into an effective educator. The course was conducted with the help of inspiring videos, reflective questions, discussions and also debates. The course was an opportunity for the students to fill their lives with enthusiasm, zeal and positivity in order to excel in all spheres of life.
